In addition you need an overall aggregate mark of 50% or more.

1. Look at the following quote:
- 'In the majority of ELT classrooms, the skill of speaking is often the most coveted, yet it can be a challenge to get your students actually speaking to one another for any length of time.'
- (Doran S, ETP, Issue 64, Sept 2009.)
- i) TTT is often seen as a negative factor in classroom practice. Do you agree with this? What strategies do you use to encourage STT during lessons? Give reasons for your choice.
 - ii) How does classroom management, with regard to practising speaking, differ between different class types, e.g. Young Learners, Business English, General English, EAP etc? Give reasons for your choices.
 - iii) Choose three aspects of classroom management you feel are important for encouraging speaking and describe how they influence your teaching.
2. i) Give definitions of each of the following kinds of listening:
- a) Intensive
 - b) Extensive
 - c) Gist
 - d) Specific information

- ii) A lot of listening tasks involve comprehension questions. Outline five different listening activities (not involving comprehension questions) you have used in class to practise listening, outlining the reasons for your choices.
- iii) What listening 'principles' would you advise a newly qualified ELT teacher to adopt?

3. i) Define the following terms:

- a) Mistakes
 - b) Slips
 - c) Errors
 - d) Attempts
 - e) False friends
 - f) Developmental errors
